

ARSL Membership Transfer Policy

(Approved by the Board, 9/30/12)

ARSL grants membership to individuals. Each membership is the property of the person or entity that paid for it. Memberships may be transferred to another individual when requested by the payor.

Memberships paid for by an individual can be transferred to another individual at the request of the payor.

Memberships paid for by a library, institution, or other organization for an employee or volunteer can be transferred to another employee or volunteer at the request of the library, institution, or other organization.
